Sacramento Regional Veterans' Energy Employment Project Accepting Applications

Sacramento Employment and Training Agency (SETA) is now accepting applications from veterans for the Veterans' Energy Employment Project at Los Rios Community Colleges- a customized, career prep course that will strengthen Veterans' candidacy for employment and add to their knowledge of the construction, energy or utility industry.

Coursework includes technical, job-specific and soft skills training, and the physical requirement needed to effectively compete for entry-level industry field jobs in the construction, energy or utility industry. Workers can earn up to $22 per hour.

This is a Veterans only training program for recently separated veterans 2013 to present. There is no cost to attend the training program for eligible Veterans.

Classes start January 2018. Interested applicants apply online at <http://www.sacramentoworks.org/job-seekers/veap/>

For more information about the program, contact Lorna Devine at Lorna.Devine@seta.net or call (916) 263-0819.

See attached flyer for additional program details.
